HILES CONDEMNS FOUR PATIENTS; SLOT MACHINES

City Attorney Holds That the How Dr. M. R. Stewart Makes City Has No Right to Grant the Licenses.

DOWN THEIR PETITION.

Nickel-in-the-slot machines will not be or by means of which money of things representing money or of value, may be won or lost."

Slot Machines Intended.

Judge Hiles maintains that nickel-inthe-slot machines, when maintained and operated in the ordinary way, are gambling devices within the meaning of the last section quoted. While admitting that there is a conflict of ordinances on the subject, he maintains that the last one quoted is controlling and should govern. The opinion points out further that section 426 of the Revised Statutes of Utah says that "any person who plays or carries on with cards, dice or any other device for money, checks, credit or any other representative of value," any game of chance is guilty of a misdemeanor.

or right to license or permit to be operated anything which is declared by the law of the state to be a misdemeanor.

Cigar Men Disappointed.

The cigar men are disappointed as a result of Judge Hiles' opinion. Several days ago a committee representing them waited upon the mayor and asked him to permit slot machines to resume under the $10 license fee specified in the ordinance. The mayor decided to refer the matter to Judge Hiles for an opinion. While Mayor Thompson has made no pronunciamento on the subject, the fact that he asked Judge Hiles for the opinion means in all probability that he will follow it.

Notwithstanding his fierce cutthroat competition with the asphalt trust, which threatens to engulf all his hard earned savings of years, Contractor Patrick J. Moran, owner in fee simple of the "American" majority in the city council, will have an automobile next week. It is to be a flaring red one of the latest improved make, and rumor has it

R. Stewart, health Hiles. Judge Hiles holds that the ordi- commissioner, has made requisition for nance nickel-in-the-slot machine, such as the cigar dealers are petitioning to have restored, is under the ban of both city ordinance and state statute.

Judge Hiles points out that section 393 of the city ordinance permits the licensing of slot machines under certain conditions; he also points out, however, that section 444 makes it unlawful for any person "knowingly to permit or suffer any game or gambling device, whereby or by means of which money of things representing money or of value, may be won or lost."

Slot Machines Interdad 3550 for groceries for April. The announcement was made at the health office yesterday that two of the three employes at the isolation hospital will be dropped Monday; but if this happens it will be the first time an "American" has been let out this year. It will also be the first time since Dr. Stewart took office that he has made requisition for 350 for groceries for April. Matters in the health department are reaching such a pass that a resolution will probably be offered in the council nance nickel-in-the-slot machine, such as $350 for groceries for April. The an-

At a recent council meeting City Auditor Rudolph Alff sent in a communication that Dr. Stewart had presented a bill for $20 for keeping his horse and buggy for a month. Councilmen are inquiring why the city should pay for the "keep" of Dr. Stewart's rig which he uses for his private practice. In this communication Auditor Alff said that there was no authorization for the pay-uses for his private practice. In this communication Auditor Alff said that there was no authorization for the payment of such a bill. It was referred to a committee where it was hung up. It has not been acted upon yet, and it will doubtless be attacked in the council before it is paid.

Dr. Stewart is the only health commissioner Salt Lake ever had who had an assistant. The assistant is paid $75 a month. Neither he nor Dr. Stewart spends any considerable time in the office. The work is turned over to a chief clerk who gets $90 a month. This functionary runs the office. The small army of inspectors, who at times crowd the office so that ingress and egress is accomplished only by stumbling over somebody's feet, report to this chief clerk. Some of them, it is said, do not even know Dr. Stewart by sight.

wound but was unable to say whether the skull was fractured.

Mr. McCallum came to Salt Lake last night from Blackfoot, Ida. He had a letter from his wife in his pocket, which was addressed from Fort Collins, Colo. He was evidently returning home from Blackfoot, as he had a railroad ticket, which he purchased at Blackfoot, for Denver. Mr. McCallum is about 60 years of age and wears a beard. He is of stout build and well dressed. He is a member of the G. A. R. and practiced law for several years in Denver, afterward moving to Fort

Of Miss Walsh it need only be said that the won and decreased the work and decreased the said that

The advance sale for "The Lion and the Mouse" at the Salt Lake theatre began yesterday. The engagement begins on Tuesday evening of next week and, as it is the last attraction at the Salt Lake theatre this season, and as it is a production of the highest merit, the demand for seats will undoubtedly be heavy. touches that Fitch knows so well how to work into his plays.

Presented by Blanche Walsh and the splendid company associated with her, the play is a delight. Miss Walsh has found a vehicle admirably suited to her talents. Yet, truth to tell, there are at least two other parts as fine as hers and, in their way, as well done. Miss Walsh appears as Margaret Rolfe, wife of the other great parts are those of Claire Foster, taken by Helen Ware, and Thompson, lawyer, by Frand Sheridan. These three have most of the work to do, and they do it exceedingly well.

There isn't a gread deal of humor in the play.
